The rich variety which the contents of the first five volumes of this work present, will commend the sixth volume, now publishing, to the immediate attention of Sunday-school teachers and parents.

Number one of volume six, was published January, 1829, and the work will be continued monthly, at twenty-five cents a year. The twelve numbers can be bound in December, making a most valuable volume of 196 pages, which will be permanently useful in every family, and in the hands of every child that can read.

Those who wish the work can send the money to the "Corresponding Secretary of the American Sunday-School Union, No. 146 Chesnut-street, Philadelphia," or to any of the Agents whose names are on the covers of the Youth's Friend, (post paid), and the numbers may be procured.

 The Youth's Friend is not delivered to subscribers in the city, but they are to be called for at the Depositories.

THE
FRIENDS AND TEACHERS

Of SUNDAY-SCHOOLS in the United States are now called upon to give their support to a periodical, which, during the last four years and a half, has been the means of arousing the public attention and directing the labours of teachers to an encouraging extent. We mean the AMERICAN SUNDAY-SCHOOL MAGAZINE.

It is the intention of the Managers of the Union to make this work far more valuable the present than any former year, and to urge its introduction into the hands of every friend of the Society. This occasion is selected for giving circulation to the present notice, as a favourable opportunity to add new names to the list of subscribers, and we hope that all who want the work the present year will send their address, with the subscription price for one year, ($1 50,) post paid, to the "Corresponding Secretary of the American Sunday-School Union, No. 146 Chesnut street, Philadelphia," without further delay.

This Magazine is the property of the Society, and its profits are sacredly devoted to the benevolent objects of the Union, viz. the promotion of Sabbath-schools. Those to whom this object is dear, can now, at a small expense, render it a most essential service.

A large increase should be made to the subscription list at the present time to meet the heavy expenses of the work. As much loss has been experienced from the delinquency of individuals who have not complied with the terms of payment, agents are requested to receive the subscription money in advance. The low price at which the Magazine is afforded, renders this requisition reasonable and just.—Every seventh copy gratis.
